Wirtz Reports No Progress in Airlines' Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today "no progress" was made at this morning's negotiations aimed at ending a machinists union strike against five major airlines. Wirtz spoke to newsmen when the negotiations recessed for lunch. Asked whether he saw a possibility of White House intervention to end the strike that started last Friday, he said, "there is no consideration of direct presidential intervention at this point."

Today's session had opened on an acrimonious note.

Joseph Ramsey, vice president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and their unions, negotiator in the conference room, said: "The public should know that there hasn't been five minutes of rest negotiating since this strike started."

"These carriers are standing pat, protecting their profits, waiting for the president or Congress to help them," he said.

"Union members on the air lines are asking to share in the profits."

"After all these years when they have accepted substandard

Tornadoes Rip Through Five States

Heavy thunderstorms rumbled through the Ohio Valley and parts of the Great Lakes Monday in the wake of tornadoes that ripped through five midwestern states.

Although storms caused extensive damage in parts of northeastern Illinois and southwestern Wisconsin the beneficial rains brought much-needed relief to parched areas.

Chicago recorded .54 inches of rain in six hours and Green Bay, Wis., measured .30 inches in two hours. About one-half inch of rain fell on a wide section of Indiana.

Morning temperatures generally were in the 60s or 70s, except for much of the Northwest where the cool 50s prevailed.

Forecasters said the mercury would "soar" to record-breaking levels around the time of the return of the nation late Monday.

The weatherman said readings around the 100-degree mark were indicated in much of the Mississippi Valley and the Plains States.

Bitterly hot weather scared the Dakotas Sunday. Pierre, S.D., recorded a high of 100 degrees and Huron, S.D., sweltered in 112-degree heat. It was the highest reading ever recorded in Huron. Monday morning's low readings included 42 in Klamath Falls, Ore., and 43 in Redmond, Ore.

Flash Flood, Hail Plague North Idaho

GREER, Idaho (AP)—A flash-flood-washed-out U.S. 12 briefly, Sunday while the size of marbles-pebbled swimmers in the Clearwater River and ruined crops in a four-mile wide area.

Hail, nearly恒定 to break gall all the white under sunny skies.

State Patrolman Bert McGinnis said an eight-foot wall of water pushed his car across the roadway on U.S. 12 and forced some 50 vehicles to wait two hours.

McGinnis and his brood stopped a group of campers picking up trucks and cars pulling trailers due to high winds followed by hail.

After the storm, he said, a house trailer had to be dug out of mud before it could be moved.

A large horse was moved onto the road near Kamiah by the winds.

Farmers in the center of the storm said their crops were entirely destroyed. These a mile away suffered no harm.

Slight Damage Noted Here By Rainstorm

Only slight damage was caused in Twin Falls County by the Saturday night rainstorm.

Twin Falls police said the only damage reported were several tree limbs had been blown off by the storm. The Twin Falls Entomology department reported .27 of an inch of precipitation Saturday night.

This was the most precipitation reported in Twin Falls since Jan. 1.

The weather bureau in Kimberly reported .22 of an inch of precipitation Saturday night from the storm. However, they have been two times as high when more precipitation has been reported at one time at Kimberly. On March 16, during a 24-hour period, the Weather Bureau reported .30 of an inch of precipitation. On May 9, also during a 24-hour period, the bureau reported .25 of an inch of precipitation.

Only traces of precipitation were reported Saturday night in Jerome, Butte, Castleford and Wendell. Hailley reported .03 of an inch of precipitation.

Sunday, Hailley reported .24 of an inch Saturday night. Report received .01 of an inch of precipitation.

The Socialist picked up nine seats from the Christian Democrats and New Republicans emerged with the largest majority of 101 of the 200 seats.

Many believed that Erhard, who campaigned as actively as Brandt in the state, contributed to his party's defeat by antagonizing voters in some rural communities. The chancellor was defeated in Cologne where the Free Democrats took continuous references to his rule by his father, first gained power.

Christian Democrats lost 10 seats in the state.

11 Hurt in Headon Crash At Hagerman

HAGERMAN—Eleven people, including seven children, were hospitalized as a result of a two-car head-on collision at 5:30 a.m. yesterday, two miles south of Hagerman, Idaho.

According to Canyon County deputy Sheriff Bill Dunn, a 1962 Buick driven by Vernon C. Jalo, 32, Estacada, Ore., collided with a 1959 Buick driven by Supt. James Sandige, 26, Tacoma, Wash. The investigating officer said that the Sammie vehicle apparently crossed the center line, hitting the Jalo car head-on.

Immediately after the impact, the Jalo car burst into flames and the Hagerman Volunteer Fire Department was called to extinguish the fire, Dunn said.

Passengers in the Jalo vehicle were his wife, Mrs. Chico Jalo; 23-year-old twin sons, Vernon C. Jalo Jr., 3, and Kent Jalo, 2, Mr. and Mrs. Jalo and Vernon Clark Jalo Jr., were reported in fair condition Monday morning at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Henry Munoz, director of Latin American services of the AFL-CIO, virtually guaranteed the marching would continue.

Viet Cong Down Three U.S. Helicopters, Two Jets Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong shot down three American helicopters in South Viet Nam, killing four U.S. and nine South Vietnamese soldiers, while two more U.S. jets were lost in the air war against the Communist North, an American spokesman announced today. A Navy fighter-bomber became the 285th plane lost in the 17-month air war against North Viet Nam early today. The bombing continued with an attack on another oil storage depot 150 miles west-northwest of Hanoi near the oil French base at Ben Bien.

Ground fighting in South Viet Nam died down with both U.S. and Vietnamese headquarters reporting only light patrol contacts.

In the jungles northwest of Saigon, a battered Viet Cong unit escaped to safety. At least 233 died after the U.S. 1st Infantry Division decimated the guerrillas into a fortress fight.

All 13 helicopter deaths came when a U.S. UH-1D Iroquois was shot down 18 miles southeast of Can Tho in southernmost An Giang province, which has been relatively quiet in recent months. The U.S. spokesman had no further details.

The two other helicopters both Marine CH-46 cargo carriers went down in the northern part of the country 12 miles northwest of the Marine base at Chu Lai. There were no casualties in either crash.

Texas Field Hands March for Wages

SAN JUAN, Tex. (AP)—Eleven persons including two clergymen and a union organizer, started a 400-mile march today to point up demands of farm workers for more pay. The march began at the altar of Our Lady of San Juan Roman Catholic Church. Five men and three women on the march are field workers. The priest wore a Star of David, which he said indicated support of the marchers.

Council. A spokesman said the group plans to go to Weslaco, 10 miles, for a rally tonight. They will return to San Juan by bus for the night, then resume the march Tuesday from Weslaco, heading for El Paso, Texas.

The marchers carried the United States flag and the banner of the National Farm Workers Association Union—with a black thunderbird in a white circle in the center.

Henry Munoz, director of Latin American services of the AFL-CIO, virtually guaranteed the marching would continue.

According to Idaho State Police officers who investigated the incident, the right rear tire of the truck, driven by George Price, 34, Portland, Ore., and the vehicle caught fire.

25-Year-Old Bronc Still Knows Stuff

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Warren Petrie, 25, a bronco rider who has ridden a 2,500-pounder at the Emerald Empire Roundup, gave a standing ovation when a plaque was presented to Warrington's owners, Henry and Bob Christensen, of Eugene.

Warrington was on the Klamath, Ore., Indian Reservation when the Christensen brothers bought him a year ago. He is now about 10 years old, a driving, mounting and stock-holding bronc in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

The muckers plan to bike for days through hot and sparsely populated country.

They hope to rally support for their cause in such cities as Corpus Christi and San Antonio and a dozen of crossroads towns in southern Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

Their cause is the right to earn a living wage, not to be exploited.

The two other broncs, both Marine CH-46 cargo carriers, went down in the northern part of the country 12 miles northwest of the Marine base at Chu Lai. There were no casualties in either crash.

T. E. House Is Damaged By Blaze

A home owned by L. James Koutnik was badly damaged in a 6:21 a.m. Sunday fire, according to the Twin Falls Fire department.

The fire department rushed to the scene after a call from an unidentified woman telling them a house was on fire at 820 Elm St. Fire officials said the house was unoccupied, and Koutnik was redecorating it in preparation for renting.

The fire began on the back porch, spread to the roof, completed destroying it, and then moved to the back and into the house before it could be brought under control, fire officials noted. The fire was out about one-half hour later.

No estimate of loss or cause of fire has been determined.

Hansen Slams Department Of Interior

POCATELLO (AP) — Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, said Monday in a message to Interior Secretary Stewart Udall that "any time the residents are concerned about the suspension of desert land entries in Idaho."

Commenting on a news report that Udall is expected to uphold the decision of the Bureau of Reclamation examiner in the case of the Indian Hills entries, Hansen said: "The procrastination of the Department of Interior plus its indecision on this issue is deplorable lack of coordination within the department."

"It is incumbent on the department to give speedy consideration to the plight in which it has placed many Idahoans who believe their efforts to bring desert lands under cultivation meet all requirements of the law," Hansen said.

The congressman formally opened a congressional office in Pocatello with an open house.

Weather, Temperatures

MAGIC VALLEY — Fair through Tuesday but with afternoon clouds. Not much temperature change. High in 80s in 80s except Camas Prairie, high in 80s, low 42-62. Outlook for Wednesday is little change. Temperatures at 8 a.m.: 62 at Jerome, 66 at T.F. weather bureau with 48 per cent humidity, 65 at Rupert, 68 at Fairfield; 63 at Hailey, 60 at Buhl, 64 at Castleford, 65 at Wendell; at noon, 71 at T.F. weather bureau with 40 per cent humidity. Barometer: 30.05. Soil temperatures: At Twin Falls, 70-inches 65, eight-inch 69, 20-inches 35, 36 inches 67; three-inch levels: 71 at Buhl, 71 at Castleford, 68 at Wendell.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

The afternoon shower activity moved into the Upper Snake Valley Sunday. Except for .12 of an inch of rain at Rupert, no precipitation was reported in "southeastern" valleys nor in the southwestern valleys. Rexburg recorded .12 of an inch, Aberdeen .04 of an inch, and Pocatello .01 of an inch during the past 24 hours.

Partly cloudy skies to locally cloudy skies are being reported throughout the valley this morning but elsewhere mostly clear skies are the rule. Winds are not 10 miles per hour and, except in areas of showers in eastern valleys, should remain mostly light today.

Low pressure aloft is forecast to remain along the west coast with another low pressure center moving to the north through Canada. The valleys of Southern Idaho will remain under the influence of the southwest flow of air aloft. Except for the moisture now in the eastern valleys, which will be sufficient for scattered showers today and Tuesday, the southwest flow of air aloft remains relatively dry. Mostly dry soil conditions are forecast for the southwest. Little temperature change is indicated today and probably tomorrow as well with the weak surface patterns existing. However, the heat low in the desert southwest should begin to bring some warmer air in the next two or three days. Temperatures today and Tuesday will be in the 80s to lower 90s with nighttime temperatures today continuing mostly in the 50s.

No significant temperature trend took place in our valleys during the past 24 hours. Any changes which occurred were quite local in effect. Jerome reported 93 degrees for the day while Wendell's 66 degrees and Emmett's 48 degrees reading were two of the lower early morning temperatures. Evaporation from open pans during the past 24 hours amounts to .43 of an inch at Aberdeen, .40 of an inch at Kimberly and .46 of an inch at Parma.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Low pressure aloft along the West Coast will persist during the next few days keeping a southwest flow of air into the Intermountain region. High pressure at the surface will remain in the Eastern Pacific allowing the desert heat low in the southwest to move farther eastward.

Temperature over the area of Southern Idaho will average near normal Tuesday through Saturday. Day to day temperature changes will be small with warming indicated around midweek and some cooling the end of the week. Nighttime temperatures will be favorable for rapid growth and development of crops. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Gooding 92-58, Twin Falls 92-51 and Burley 90-53.

Scattered showers are possible at times in eastern valleys and northern Mountain areas, but amounts will total mostly less than .10 of an inch. Elsewhere in Southern Idaho little if any precipitation is forecast.

Sunshine will average more than 85 per cent of possible through the week. Winds will be generally light, especially during morning and evening hours, but stronger winds at times may occur towards the end of the week. Water demands for crops will remain high and evaporation rates from open pans will average from .35 to .45 of an inch per day.

Ideal weather is indicated for haying operations the next few days. Crop growth and development will continue to make good gains. Field work and other outdoor activities can be accomplished without weather delays through this week.

TEMPERATURE AND PRECIPITATION SUMMARY

Highest temperature Sunday. Lowest temperature last 12 hours, precipitation for 24 hours ending at 6 a.m., CST.

Man Arrested For Killings In Nevada

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — The bodies of two men, one strangled and one beaten with a pipe were found Sunday in a storage shed, Dist. Atty. Joseph O. McDaniel said.

Police arrested one man for investigation of homicide and held two others as material witnesses.

McDaniel said neither of the dead men have been identified. Their fingerprints were forwarded to the FBI in Washington, D.C.

Police booked Leonard Logan, 32, of Salem, Va., for investigation of homicide. Held as material witness were Elmer Criswell, 32, Boulder City, Colo., and Harry Paradise, 56, Elko.

A doctor said the two men were killed sometime between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday.

McDaniel said a dishwisher, James Dauchy of Elko, called police after Logan took him to the shed and showed him the bodies.

The district attorney said the old shed on a construction company's property is used by miners as a place to drink.

He said a rope and an iron bar with blood on it were found near the bodies.

Famous Killer Whale Is Dead

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Namu, the gentle world-famed killer whale who became a motion picture star and a subject for many scientific studies, is dead.

Tell Griffin, who bought the whale, said Namu had been acting odd for a week or so. He said summer is the whale mating season and that the big mammal, which had to come up for air from time to time, may have been trying to escape when he became disoriented.

It was the first time a killer whale had been kept alive for any length of time in captivity.

Extra Government

Perhaps one of the last chances for big savings in tax dollars can be found in the area of city-county governments and all the duplication involved. Government evolution has brought a situation in which residents of cities are taxed to support both the city and county governments, yet these governments don't recognize the fact. City officials concentrate on city matters and county employees put the big emphasis on work in rural areas. For instance, what city resident would ever call the sheriff's office in event of trouble and how often would a deputy sheriff answer a call within the city?

The point of duplication and inefficiency has finally been driven home in Boise. Boise's City Council and the Ada County Commission are studying possibility of joint city-county facilities for operations with mutual functions. Joint operation is envisioned to include jails, courts and law enforcement agencies, specifically. Other governmental functions aren't eliminated from the current study.

Possibilities for cooperation and resulting saving of tax dollars are quite extensive. Use of joint facilities makes even more sense in Boise. The population of Boise comprises at least three-fourths of the county's population. It's easy to see who contributes the lion's share of tax money to finance the county government.

The ridiculous aspect of county government in Idaho is illustrated by the fact that the smallest county, with something like 900 residents, has to support the same basic county government as the largest county with upwards of 100,000 residents. It's just beyond reason.

Another good possibility for saving tax dollars lies in possible elimination of many counties. Perhaps legislative re-apportionment will pave the way for steps along that path in the next few years. Modern office equipment and machines make it possible now for personnel of one county to handle many times the volume of work accomplished by old methods. Perhaps as many as seven or eight counties — or even more — could be consolidated into one effective, efficient unit.

As the Times-News has pointed out before, if some sort of consolidation doesn't develop in the next few years, many Idaho counties will have to face up to major projects of renovation or rebuilding of courthouses. It would be a big favor to overburdened taxpayers if that expense could be avoided. Somewhere along the line, officials and leaders should start paying more attention to the tax-payer and a little less attention to politics.

IS IT JUSTICE?

Considering the case of one Mrs. Burnice Geiger, who embezzled $2,126,850, one might wonder if honesty actually is the best policy. Mrs. Geiger was sentenced in February, 1961, to a prison term of 15 years after she pleaded guilty. She served a little more than five years of the term in what the Associated Press described as "a college-like federal reformatory for women." By comparison, it's not uncommon for a person to serve as much or more time for forging a $50 check. And the ordinary forger isn't held in any "college-like" prison.

Those who are convinced that the punishment should fit the crime won't ever understand the case of Mrs. Geiger. In some respects, her case is far worse than the forger because she took money that had been entrusted to her care in her capacity as assistant cashier in a family-owned bank. And she paid her debt to society at the rate of more than $400,000 per year. That's pretty good pay for anyone and might be interpreted by some persons to mean that embezzlement by a "college-like" prison.

It's not the first time there has been a gross inequity in punishments under the law, nor will it be the last. Some persons might reason there's a marked difference between the embezzler and the forger and each violator should be accorded treatment in line with the individual case. In fact, courts usually are barred from taking anything into consideration beyond the specific charges involved in a particular trial. Yet on the other side of the coin, much has been made in recent years about discrimination, equal treatment. What forger would ever convince any court he had been the victim of discrimination because his sentence for a $100-forgery had been just as severe as the sentence for a multi-million-dollar embezzlement.

Those concerned with justice would do well to give some thought to such obvious inequities. Such cases lend a good deal of credence to the popular belief that courts discriminate against the little guy, Prediction by 76-year-old Dr. Whitmire G. Elshaberg, renowned psychopathologist, that the world will get crewcuts and girls will dress right again like girls within five years is re-righted.

The bizarre part and bafules of the younger generation are "just a wave," one of many he has seen during his long lifetime, Dr. Elshaberg declared. The youngsters are rebellious against their parents and society, but they are in better health than ever before.

There is a slight air of fading and going, of course. Girls' pants, peasant blouses and shirts, dark-hair pants, men's knickerbockers, cuttage, ankle-length skirts. Stained hair parted in the middle and many other faddish things have appeared and departed within little more than a half a century.

One can remember when crewcuts were regarded with almost as great disfavor as today's Beatle bangs. And when the elders thought the Charleston and the Black Bottom were as good as this (Pring and the Watusi) the forger, as usual, will pay for it. — The Oregonian.

Nurses Quit At Hospital In California

CASTRO VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — More than 100 registered nurses, seeking higher wages and better working conditions, has drastically reduced the hospital's services. Surgery has been canceled.

Ralph Hartley, a negotiator for the striking nurses, said the patients will be truly abandoned if negotiations fail to lift nurses from "the lowest paid professional group in the country."

Elmer Massmann, administrator for the 243-bed hospital, said, "We are not admitting any patients who might be termed critical or risk patients."

The nurses, 107 of staff's 107, left Saturday night after rejecting pay proposals which they said were entirely inadequate.

The hospital "acted in its 18 supervisory nurses for emergency duty."

Nurses at 11 San Francisco hospitals and 19 hospitals in the East Bay also stopped work. Eden nurses and the hospital to use the same resignation tactic in new contract negotiations.

Canadian Army General Dies at 80

MONTEBELLO, Quebec (AP) — Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, 80, who took the first Canadian army overseas in World War II, died here today.

Gen. McNaughton's career spanned many fields of public service, including pre-war presidency of the National Research Council, wartime army commander, brief service as defense minister and later as Canadian chairman of the International Commission. He held the latter post until his retirement in 1962.

Andrew George Latta McNaughton was at once soldier, scientist and diplomat.

It was when he was well into his 70s that McNaughton became Canadian spokesman of the International Commission and won concessions from the United States for huge quantities of American generated Columbia River power to be turned over to Canada.

As a research scientist, he invented the cathode-ray compass that enabled airplane pilots to get proper bearings.

But he was a soldier that he was best known.

Virginia's Conservative Byrd Unit Faces Stiff Opposition to Power

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The old and youthful outlook doesn't conservative Byrd organization faces the stiffest opposition yet to its political power from the moderate-liberal wing of the Democratic party in Tuesday's primary.

Virginia voters, with the unique chance to pick both Senate and House candidates, have chosen between Smith and Rawlings.

Boothe, 38, is older than Byrd, who is 51. Boothe argues that Byrd's record is not up to modern times. Byrd, heavily favored in the campaign, has seldom replied to Boothe's assertions.

The Boothe-Byrd campaign came to a premature end. Last Thursday Byrd canceled the rest of his campaign so he could go to his father's bedside at home. Boothe, the former senator in a coma with a malignant brain tumor.

This following day, Boothe canceled the remainder of his schedule in deference to Byrd's position and out of respect for Byrd Sr.

Poland Will Probably Accept Stamps

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — An official of the Polish Postal Ministry says he doubts Poland's Communist government will bar U.S. mail with a new commemorative stamp bearing a crowned eagle instead of the postwar Communist eagle.

The official noted that even Polish stamps have depicted various types of eagles, depending on what historical period was being commemorated.

The U.S. stamp, to be issued July 31, bears a cross commemorating 1,000 years of Christianity in Poland and the eagle commemorating the millennium of the Polish nation. The crown commemorates the monarchy.

SODA SPRINGS (AP) — Harry Dean Tillotson, 30, of Lava Hot Springs, Idaho, died Saturday in heavy equipment accident at the Mobile Canyon phosphate mine near Soda Springs.

According to Howard Loensha, mine superintendent, the earth moving machine Tillotson was operating apparently ran off a dirt road across a flat at the open pit mine. The machine rolled about 400 feet down the side of the hill and steep embankment at the bottom of the hill, Loensha said. The machine crushed Tillotson.

OREFINO, Idaho (AP) — Two teen-age boys, one son of a University of Idaho professor, were killed early today when their car, which had left the road, sailed 121 feet through the air and crashed upside-down on the bank of the Clearwater River, State Patrolman Bert McGinnis reported.

Victims of the accident were Richard C. Chambers, 19, and Alfred Emery Barus, 18, both sons of Prof. James Barus, son of the university.

Both young men apparently were thrown out of the car when it became airborne, McGinnis said. Their bodies were found about 5 a.m. on the rocky embankment by a passerby.

Coroner E. D. Pairs said the youth, Lee A. Archer Jr., was dead on arrival at a Boise hospital. The coroner said the boy had been swimming and stepped off into deep water.

His uncle, Sam Carver, struggled with the boy and managed to get him to the bank, Paris said. The uncle and firemen using a resuscitator were unable to revive the boy.

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Democratic candidate Charles Hendon said Sunday he immediately will begin working for expansion of Idaho college and university facilities if he is elected governor.

That expansion would include establishment of trade and nursing schools, Sen. Hendon told a University of Idaho audience.

"This great university, like others in Idaho," Hendon said, "is facing a crisis in facilities to handle expanding enrollment."

He said the state also needs highly qualified teachers to elementary and high schools as well as colleges and universities.

Washington's Presbyterian Church to Be Demolished

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special government commission ruled today that eight officers of the Greek cruise ship Lakonia, which burned and sank with a loss of 128 lives on a Christmas cruise in 1963, were guilty of negligence.

This was one of Washington's best-known churches today on the eve of its demolition. It was the church of at least eight presidents, including Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Just seven blocks north of the White House, National Presbyterian — with its stately, Romanesque bell tower — is to be leveled to make room for an office building.

Chalked signs on the brown stone front of the church prodded the destruction and added: "Sale — books, mirrors, paintings."

Inside, the curious, the antique collectors, the bargain hunters and an occasional parishioner searching for a memory, pore over old books and documents. A 200-year-old book goes for $2. A child's chair for $3.

Even — some of the pews — were sold — to a Baptist church in nearby Alexandria, Va.

Upstairs there is more litter. Papers tell of the history of the church — some in a personal way.

An old letter lying in a pile starts: "Dear Frances: There was a splendid looking fellow at the Lenten dinner the other night." Nearby, a file folder, stuffed with papers, is labeled "July-Dec. 1954, paid bills; vouchers." A couple of old photos show the marble along the mound of papers and a rubber stamp saying: "For deposit only to the account of the National Presbyterian Church."

Cockfight Is Disrupted By Policemen

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Just as a Tuscola County cock-fight was getting good, an airplane swooped down and its loudspeaker blared at the shouting fans:

"You're all under arrest."

It didn't help for the rooster-fight fans to run, police said.

Troopers dressed in camouflage uniforms had infiltrated the crowd in the arcades east of Saginaw about three hours before the fight fans arrived.

After Mayville Justice of the Peace George Foster fined each of the men $26 for loitering at an illegal event, police were faced with the problem of what to do with 109 roosters confiscated in the raid.

Arms Agency Won't Remark On Opinion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency has declined to comment on the opinion of a research panel that the U.S. plan for eventual global disarmament is not feasible.

The agency, which is public Sunday night, the 129-page report that also contends the U.S. disarmament plan possibly is dangerous because it does not provide adequate alternative machinery to protect national interests.

The U.S. plan calls for eventual replacement of national defense forces with a powerful U.N. peace force. It was presented to the continuing 17-nation disarmament parley at Geneva in 1962.

The research panel spent two years studying the U.S. proposal under an $87,300 contract with the disarmament agency.

Colorado River Project Expected to Find Smooth Sailing in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A giant Colorado River project is expected to find fairly smooth sailing in the House Interior Committee this week or next but dangerous rapids await in the legislative stream ahead.

The committee is expected to approve the Wednesday on which bills for a study of how much water should be diverted into the Colorado from another river basin.

If the bill makes it through the House, it will go to the Senate Interior Committee, which is headed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., an opponent of the water study proposal.

But the project faces a fight in the House, where strong opposition is expected from two groups:

1. Conservatives who argue that two big Arizona dams, river basin diversion works in the bill approved by the House subcommittee, with estimated construction costs of $511 million; Marble Canyon dam, reservoir and facilities in Arizona, $23 million; Central Arizona Aqueduct in Arizona, $526 million;

Dolores, $46,633,000; Dallas Creek, $27,627,000; West Divide,

$99,800,000, and San Miguel, $67,819,000.

2. Members of Congress from the Pacific Northwest who object to the study as proposed in the Colorado Project bill.

Under the authority given by the bill, the Interior Department would make a decision on whether water should be diverted into the Colorado from another river basin.

Short-Skirt Season Hinders Many Models

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A model's face isn't her fortune anymore. Her legs are.

If these are not long, strong, straight and well-shaped with nice knees, they can be her misfortune.

With hemlines skyrocketing, that's a sorrowful fact that has driven many a bony beauty into reluctant retirement according to several prominent modeling agencies here.

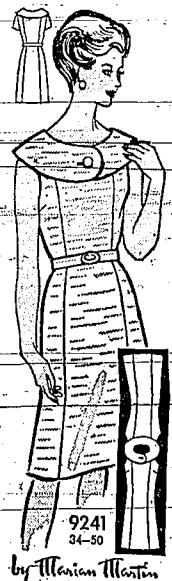

Many are the same gaunt, haggard, flat-chested planter girls with protruding shoulder blades and hip bones who only yesterday, as they slouched S-shaped in bosomless, waistless fashions covering their knobby knees, were the envy of flusher sisters.

"If their legs were bad, we might be able to drop the fashion pictures," sadly reminisced Muriel Durand, a publicist.

"Now the leggy look is a part of the whole style effect. If she doesn't have good legs, we just can't use the model."

That is the story Eileen Ford, director of Ford's, New York's largest agency, hears from clients regularly. At Moenagh, a spokesman, Myra Sacks, lamented that if hemlines continue their upward climb some of the girls might have to resort to plastic surgery to stay in the modeling business.

Your Spine and Your Health

By Dr. Ludwig O. Landwehr

There are 300,000 lost man hours every year because people don't realize the great deal of damage, back-time injuries come from sitting not done correctly.

When you have to lift something, like a chair or a sofa, sit on two feet to look at the object over. Decide how best to get a good grip on it, put your feet firmly on the floor, hold the object as comfort permits, and 10" to 12" apart, then squat down, get a firm grip on the object and straighten the legs, keep back straight, settling the big muscles of the legs, arms and shoulders take the full strain.

Settling the body down again is just the reverse of lifting.

If a back injury should occur, see your Doctor of Chiropractic immediately. Prompt correction of the disorder will alleviate the pain and discomfort of the injury.

Physical disorders in many parts of the body often have their beginning in injuries to the spine. That's a area of the body which is in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of osteopathic orthopedics, written by Dr. Ludwig O. Landwehr, whose office is located at 717 Main Ave. W., Twin Falls, Tel. 733-0222.

Leak Sinks Liberty Ship On East Coast

PORTRUSH, N.J. (AP) — The Coast Guard said a Liberty ship trying to make port at Norfolk, Va., for repairs to a leak east early today, 23 miles south southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

The 32-man crew had abandoned ship shortly before it sank at 1:10 p.m. The crew was picked up from lifeboats by the tanker Hess Petrol and were to be transferred today to a Coast Guard vessel off Cape Henry, Va.

The Italian ship Paestum, built in 1944 as the Liberty ship Sansipied, later named the Cognac, was loaded with 9,496 tons of powdered phosphate. She was headed from Boca Grande, Fla., to Italy.

Crewmen discovered her No. 2 hold flooding last Tuesday and temporary repairs were made at Charleston, S.C. She was headed for Norfolk when the leak became serious, coinciding with the steady inflow of water.

The 41-foot ship was sold to the Italian firm of Nentuno S.p.A. di Siciliana in 1952.

Motorboat Hits 2 Boys, Killing One

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy drove an outboard motorboat through a swimming area at nearby Liberty Lake Sunday, hit two young boys in the water and apparently caused one to drown and severed the toe of the other, the Spokane County sheriff's office reported.

Divers recovered the body of Craig Schieffer, 11, shortly after the accident. Danny Lyons, 10, lost the fourth toe of his right foot.

The sheriff's office did not identify the young driver of the boat, but said he was placed in the hands of juvenile authorities pending further investigation.

The minimum age in Washington state for legally operating a motorboat powered by a motor larger than 10 horsepower is 14, except for sailboats which struck the two youngsters was a 16-foot craft, powered by a 35-horsepower outboard motor, police said.

Valentine Card Saves Life of GI

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A Marine has written to his parents in Milwaukee how a late Valentine card and lady luck joined forces in South Viet Nam to save his life.

Lance Cpl. Robert W. Morris, 19, wrote his parents that he had the card, two letters and a leather fatigue cap stuffed in the liner of his combat helmet to be kept dry. Then his squad encountered a Viet Cong ambush.

"I got shot and a round went through my helmet," he wrote. "I crawled around and checked for blood. No blood. Checked my helmet and saw a small hole where the round went in."

The card, letters and cap, he said, had deflected the machine gun bullet.

Future of Viet Nam War Appears Terrifying as Present Situation

By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK (NEA) — In the past half-century, the United States has been directly involved in 19 years of shooting wars on foreign lands.

Nine were spent in two world conflicts and Korea.

And we've been in Viet Nam for the other 10.

The war has become the longest hostile confrontation we have ever participated in off our own soil. And barring a miracle it will go even longer. Possibly much longer.

The Pentagon is thinking about "more years, if necessary." The enemy says they can continue for 10. See South Vietnamese leaders bold as U.S. aid, insist they will resist "forever."

Each pronouncement smacks of propaganda as much as promise. But such is the feeling. Aware of it, the world must accept the probability and, while praying for cessation, plan for continuation.

U.S. aid eventually the war must end. Or at least after good ill.

T.F. Motel Cited as Stop For Travelers

GATEWAY MOTEL, Twin Falls, has been cited by Travelers Corporation of America, Praireview, Wis., as one of the outstanding traveler stops in this part of the country.

J. Alvin Drury, president of Travelers, the largest travel agency of its kind in the nation, made the announcement following inspection of the local facilities, including location, maintenance, services and value received by travelers.

Recognition includes a prominent listing in Travelers' current official issue of Travel Guide, an internationally distributed book for tourists, and publication of a highway-plus map which will pinpoint the tourist attraction's location here.

Recognition came after study by Travelers representative who annually reviews tourist stops on more than 150,000 miles of the nation's major highways.

India Famine Is Averted by Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says a recent survey indicates that massive starvation in famine-struck India is being averted, food imports having fallen, mostly from the United States.

The survey said the United States is expected to supply India with more than 8.8 million tons of grains this year. India also has been receiving assistance from 33 other countries, private organizations within 10 countries and the World Food Program of the United Nations.

THE TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS FOR FAIR-BELLING REHABILITATION

No participant wishes to propose the present situation. Not only the foreign man and dollars daily; not the enemy who is suffering now and faces a virtually doubled U.S. effort by year's end; and certainly not the South Vietnamese whose social predicament is as explosive as its potential one.

Then what will happen?

Probably not U.S. withdrawal; too much has been said, too many bridges burned, too much time.

Probably not U.S. victory: except in vague terms, we can say "nontriumph" in a struggle we have labeled "nonwar."

And probably not combat with China: the red nation has enough problems without direct wrestling America. What would they do? They are doing well enough waging war in absentia.

In short, probably nothing extreme.

Both sides are anxious but neither is foolish.

There is escalation and manipulation still to be the immediate prospects—stepped-up rifle-rattling and chest bumping, increased casualties on both sides. Higher spending on ours. More shortages on theirs.

And while this is going on, the end of the war is not in sight, rather than logically with no direct force of arms involved.

Our ally might end it: Continuing leadership changes keep alive threats of neutrals or Communists taking over the government at Saigon.

Or the enemy may end it: Presidential elections might end it. A pro-American winner would prove quite embarrassing and probably force the United States back home.

Or the enemy is by means of weapons is becoming stronger and his forces beefed up by as many as 5,000 reinforcements a month from the north.

But capable as they are, they have weaknesses. And the fact that 4,000 of them desert each month indicates they are but a hollow shell.

Yet they may never totally surrender. They don't have to. Allied forces are neither pushover nor insatiable on it.

Nationalism's Potent Force Said Stirring in Romania

BUCHAREST — Romanian TAPY explosive field of terrorism.

Nationalism, the powerful chains, force that has often brought trouble to the Balkans, is stirring today in Romania.

The nation's Communist leaders are cultivating the nationalist spirit to move the nation in a determination to seek its own destiny without interference from the Soviet Union.

Romanian nationalism has proved a headache for the Kremlin, which has dominated the politics of the Balkans for a generation.

In theory, Communists deplore nationalism, which runs counter to the Red credo that the workers of the world should unite and break down national barriers.

Romanian nationalism manifested itself several years ago in the economic plan. The Soviets wanted this land of rich wheat fields and oil wells to specialize in some products and import others, tying up Soviet economic needs.

Romania refused and made some pointed remarks about it being uncommunistic for one country to try to exploit another.

With success on the economic front, Romania became more assertive, moving into the tricky

Nicklaus Ready for More Major Crowns

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Jack Nicklaus packed his bags for the trip home Sunday with the British Open Golf championship in his safekeeping and assured of a place in golf's Hall of Fame for ever more. The 26-year-old Columbus, Ohio, pro came to Muirfield saying that the British Open was the one he wanted to win more than any other title.

He won it by one stroke from Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., and Dave Thomas, Welsh Ryder Cup star.

Nicklaus finished with a under-par 70-67-75-70—282 over the 6,887-yard Muirfield layout, where the rough had been allowed to grow knee high. Nicklaus needed to be right-on-the-button to stay out of trouble.

Thomas had 72-73-69-69—283 and Sanders 71-70-72-70—283.

Nicklaus has won all the big ones. There are no more big fields to conquer.

What's his ambition now? "win a single," said Nicklaus with a smile.

He is noted for his power game, but this time he used his driver only 17 times throughout the whole tournament.

"Until this week I believed that golf was a combination of length and accuracy," Nicklaus said.

"This week it has been accuracy, with little advantage in banging the ball a long way."

Henry Cotton, the old master of British golf, wrote this in the London News of the World:

"The new champion is charming and unassuming. He promises to be a Hoylake next year to defend this title so he longs to do."

"I cannot see at the moment who will beat him for he will be only 27. He's now one of the world's greatest golfers and is destined to carry on winning major titles for under pressure he is quite superb."

Cotton, however, had one criticism. "He is now taking up 10 waggles before striking the ball and this hesitation means he is losing time and energy."

"It's a bad habit. I feel and while he is young it works, but I do hope he makes up his mind to hit all his shots quicker as the years go by."

Nicklaus started the last round trailing Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., by two shots. Rodgers had 210 and Nicklaus 212.

Gary Player of South Africa, Howard Davies of Australia, Kel Nagle of Australia and Rodgers were in a four-way tie at 256 for fourth place.

The Senator jumped off in third place in the third round on singles by Kirkland and Brinkman and a double by Paul Casanova. They added two more in the third on Kirkland's third Homer of the season and picked up three more in the fourth when Fred Valentine hit his eighth Homer of the season.

In the first game, Saverine had three singles besides his Homer, the third of his second of the season. Brinkman's blast, his sixth of the year, came in the second inning after the Yanks had gone ahead on Joe Peplone's single that drove in Bob Richardson.

Home runs — Washington, Kirkland (3), Valentine (8), New York, Peplone (10).

Third Game Cliff Rechey and his sister, Nancy, walked off the courts Sunday with second a t.r.a.t.g. championships in the Western Tennis Tournament.

Cliff, 19, defending champ, in first singles and second doubles, defeated Dan Botsford, Bakersfield, Calif., 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Nancy, 23, eliminated Peachy Kellmeyer, Charleston, W.Va., in the finals of the women's singles 6-0, 6-4.

T.F. Drops Billings 5-3 to Share Title

BILLINGS—A five-run outburst in the sixth inning, punctuated by Gary Rasmussen's base-clearing double, lifted Twin Falls past Billings 5-3 and into the championship of the Billings American Legion Baseball Invitational. Both Twin Falls and Billings came out of the three-day meet with 2-1 records while Rapid City, after beating Denver 7-0, and the Colorado team were 2-1. Sunday's victory went to Dunn Presnell who twirled five innings of solid relief, allowing only one unearned run.

Twin Falls' starter Steve Sharp went into some control problems in the first inning, walking two, allowing a hit and then seeing Billings steal a pair of bases to score twice.

Lefty Leo Cuttman took Twin Falls down over the first five innings, but in the sixth was replaced by Richard Bruce Sterk. Singlet and Scott Swope walked. Terry McNew singled Sterk home and pinch hitting Steve Fensel drew a walk to load the bases. Warren then relieved Richardson.

Shortstop Mark Brown drew a walk to force in the second. Twin Falls' run before Rasmussen settled the issue with his long two-bagger.

Billings scored its third and final run off Presnell in the sixth on a single, two sacrifice and a walk. In the seventh, right-hander Grant Simonds set the home team down in order, cementing Twin Falls' first win over Billings in three tries.

Grand Opening of Rogerson Hotel Slated for Wednesday

Grand opening of the Rogerson Hotel-and-Coffee-Rooms, after the September, 1935, fire which caused heavy damage, will be held Wednesday.

Ben Mottner, co-owner, said new dining and meeting rooms have been added and other rooms have been remodeled.

New dining and meeting room is the Colonial Room. This room, Mottner said, has been extensively decorated and will seat 30 persons for either or a luncheon or conference.

The Round Room, which will divide into the Desert Room for 35 persons, will seat about 200. This room also has been redecorated.

The Empire Room, formerly the coffee shop, has been re-

Store Opens In New Location

Grand opening of the Britches-in-Its-New-Location in the Rogerson Hotel-building Main Ave. East, will be held Wednesday.

Although the store has been opened for about three weeks, the grand opening has been set for Wednesday, says Mrs. Hazel Fitzpatrick, owner.

The store has all types of children's junior, petite, junior and maternity clothes. The clothes are by famous manufacturers.

Six regular and part-time employees assist Mrs. Fitzpatrick with operating the business. The business firm started in Twin Falls on Main Ave. North, near the Orpheum Theater, four years ago.

remodeled, Mottner added.

The Gold Room has been enlarged and decorated.

Also remodeled are the foyer entrance and the kitchen.

The hotel is open 24 hours and about 40 persons are employed throughout the year.

Everyone in Twin Falls and Magic Valley is invited to the grand opening of the hotel and businesses in the hotel building.

Mayfair Shop Adds More Lines With Enlarged Store

Enlarged to serve Twin Falls residents with more complete lines, the Mayfair Shop, 149 Main Ave. E., the new enlarged store will have its grand opening.

Frank Cook, owner and manager, said the present store has about tripled since its first store opening in 1933. He said at that time there was 1,250 square feet.

The store then enlarged to 2,500 square feet and five years ago moved to its present location with 3,500 square feet.

"Now another remodeling project, the store has about 7,000 square feet of floor space.

The shop employs about 17 regular and part-time help, up compared to five in 1933.

The store, besides all lines of clothing, has complete college, bridal and lingerie shops.

An informal style show is planned for the grand opening.
